Comments: We managed to knock over a large amount of work during the mid-semester break, as represented below from days 2-5. We were proud of our accomplishments, however our productivity waned slightly as focus fell on other assessment before we finally fell back into a development rhythm during the last weekend of the sprint (days 12-14). Some story points were pushed back to sprint 4 as noted in the post-sprint comments found in our release plan.
